INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors

National Association of Personal Financial Advisors, Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the National Association of Personal Financial Advisors, Inc. (the Association), which comprise the statements of financial position as of August 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of activities, functional revenues and expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the National Association of Personal Financial Advisors, Inc. as of August 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Association and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Association's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements, including omissions, are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Association's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Association's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED AUGUST 31, 2024 AND 2023

NOTE 1. THE ORGANIZATION

The National Association of Personal Financial Advisors, Inc. (the Association or NAPFA), an Indiana Not-For-Profit Corporation, was founded in 1983. The Association advances the public interest in the financial planning profession and supports its members consistent with its core values. The Association provides conferences and seminars to enhance the skill of its members. It provides media information for members and consumers and interacts with other professional groups, regulators and legislators.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Method of Accounting - The Association recognizes all income and expense on the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized as incurred. This method creates deferred revenue and prepaid expenses, which are revenue and expenses collected or paid in the current year for programs or costs recognized in the subsequent year.

Financial Statement Presentation - The financial statement presentation follows U.S. generally accepted accounting principles for not-for-profit organizations whereby the Association is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets as follows:

Net assets without donor restrictions - These net assets are available to finance the general operations of the Association. The only limits on the use of net assets without donor restrictions are the broad limits resulting from the nature of the Association, the environment in which it operates, and the purposes specified in its organizing documents.

Net assets with donor restrictions - These net assets result from contributions and other inflows of assets, the use of which by the Association is limited by donor-imposed time or purpose restrictions that may be either temporary or perpetual. As of August 31, 2024 and 2023, the Association had no net assets with donor restrictions.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - Cash equivalents include amounts held in money market accounts and short-term highly-liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash, and so near their maturity that the risk of change in value is negligible, except for such amounts held as part of the Association's long-term investment portfolio.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Accounts Receivable - Accounts receivable are stated at the amounts billed or advanced, net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Association does not charge interest or late fees on amounts past due. Management's periodic evaluation of the collectability of accounts receivable is based on past experience, known and inherent risks in the accounts, adverse situations that may affect ability to repay, and current economic conditions. The delinquency of accounts is based upon past due status in accordance with payment terms. Accounts are written off upon management's determination that the receivable is uncollectible. Management has not established a reserve for uncollectible accounts receivable because management believes all amounts receivable are fully collectible.

Investments - Investments are carried at fair value which generally represents quoted market price as of the last business day of the year. Purchases and sales of securities are recognized on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recognized on the accrual basis. Dividends are recognized on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes realized gains and losses on investments bought and sold during the year as well as unrealized gains and losses on investments held at year-end. Net investment return is reported net of related external and direct internal investment expenses.

Property and Equipment - Property and equipment are carried at cost. Major additions are capitalized while replacements, maintenance and repairs which do not improve or extend the lives of the respective assets are expensed.

Depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the related assets by the straight-line method - furniture, seven to eight years; computer equipment and software, three to six years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the remaining lease period.

Deferred Income - Membership dues, subscriptions, and other receipts collected in advance are reflected as a deferred income liability in the accompanying statements of financial position. Such deferred income is substantially recognizable within one year.

Revenue Recognition - Revenue is derived from both exchange transactions and contribution transactions. Revenue from exchange transactions is recognized when control of promised goods or services is transferred to members and customers, in an amount that reflects the consideration the Association expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. Except for goods and services provided in connection with membership dues, which are transferred over the period of membership, all goods and services are transferred at a point in time. Payments are generally required in advance and are reported as deferred revenue until the related revenue is recognized. Unconditional contributions are recognized upon receipt of cash or other assets, or when a donor promises to transfer cash or other assets in the future. Conditional promises to give, that is, those with a measurable performance or other barrier and a right of return or release, are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend have been substantially met.

Membership Dues - Membership dues entitle members to a bundle of goods and services that are considered a single performance obligation and the related revenue is recognized ratably over the membership period. Membership dues payments are required in advance and amounts not yet recognized as revenue are deferred to the applicable membership period.

Royalties - The Association has licensed publication of the Advisor Magazine and use of the Association's name, logo, and certain other intangible assets to third parties wishing to market products and services to the Association's members and customers, in exchange for a royalty payment. Royalty revenue is generally based on underlying sales made by the licensee, calculated on a quarterly basis, and remitted to the Association within 90 days following the close of each calendar quarter.

Revenue from Other Exchange Transactions - Revenue from event registrations, exhibitor fees, and similar amounts are recognized when the event takes place.

Sponsorships - Sponsorship revenue is comprised of an exchange element based on the fair value of benefits provided to sponsors, and a contribution element for the difference. All revenue related to event sponsorships is recognized when the event takes place, as sponsors have a right of return of their sponsorship payment if the event is not held.

Functional Allocation of Expenses - The costs of providing the various programs and other activities of the Association have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities and of functional revenues and expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited. Salaries and fringe benefits are allocated based on employee time and effort. Common costs such as occupancy, depreciation and the like are also allocated prorata based on employee time and effort.

Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Certain significant estimates used in the preparation of these financial statements include the fair value of investments, establishing no reserve is needed for accounts receivable, and determining the useful lives of property and equipment. These estimates are based on quoted prices for the fair value of investments and past experience with regard to accounts receivable and property and equipment.

New Accounting Pronouncement Adopted - During the year ended August 31, 2024, the Association adopted the provisions of Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326). This ASU replaced the incurred loss methodology with an expected loss methodology that is referred to as the current expected credit loss (CECL) methodology. The ASU requires nonprofit entities to immediately recognize the estimated expected credit losses over the life of a financial instrument, including membership dues and events receivable. The estimate of expected credit losses considers not only historical information, but also current and future economic conditions and events. The Association adopted the ASU effective September 1, 2023. The impact of the adoption was not considered material to the financial statements and primarily resulted in additional disclosures.

NOTE 3. TAX STATUS

The Internal Revenue Service has advised that the Association qualifies for income tax exemption under Section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code and is, therefore, not generally subject to tax. The Association engages in activities that are considered unrelated to the exempt function of the Association. These unrelated activities are net earnings from advertising in various publications and on the Association's website. Unrelated business income taxes on these unrelated business activities were not significant for the years ended August 31, 2024 and 2023. The Association's 2021, 2022, and 2023 annual federal and state information and unrelated business income tax returns are open to examination for the statutory period.

NOTE 4. CONCENTRATIONS

The Association maintains all of its cash balances with two financial institutions. Amounts on deposit are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000 per institution. As of August 31, 2024, the Association had cash balances of approximately $29,000 in excess of amounts insured by the FDIC.

NOTE 5. LIQUIDITY AND AVAILABILITY OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES

The following table represents the Association's financial assets available to meet cash needs for general expenditures within one year of August 31, 2024 and 2023.

	2024	2023
Total financial assets at year-end
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 353,430	$ 593,750

Financial assets at year-end available for general
expenditures coming due within one year	$ 3,539,218	$ 3,160,358

NOTE 5. LIQUIDITY AND AVAILABILITY OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES (CONTINUED)

As part of the Association's liquidity management, it has a policy to structure its financial assets to be available as its general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations come due. In addition, the Association invests cash in excess of its current requirements in a portfolio of investments designed to maximize long-term earnings with acceptable risk to investment principal. The Association's Board has also designated $1,000,000 to be held in reserve to provide funding in the event of a significant liquidity shortfall. In the event of unanticipated liquidity needs, the Association's Board could make available all or a portion of the amount currently designated as a reserve.

NOTE 6. INVESTMENTS AND FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Accounting standards provide the framework for measuring fair value which provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

- Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Association has the ability to access.
- Level 2 Inputs to the valuation methodology include other significant observable inputs including:
 - Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
 - Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
 - Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; and
 - Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following are descriptions of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value.

There have been no changes in the methodologies used at August 31, 2024 and 2023.

NOTE 6. INVESTMENTS AND FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS (CONTINUED)

Cash and money market funds are valued using cost which approximates fair value. Fair value for the exchange traded funds and mutual funds is determined by reference to quoted market prices.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Society believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

Fair values of assets measured on a recurring basis at August 31, 2024 are as follows:

NOTE 8. CONTRACT BALANCES

The timing of billings, cash collections, and revenue recognition result in contract assets and contract liabilities associated with revenue from exchange transactions. Contract assets consist entirely of trade accounts receivable, which are recognized only to the extent it is probable that the Association will collect substantially all of the consideration to which it is entitled in exchange for the goods or services that will be or have been transferred. Contract liabilities consist entirely of deferred revenue that results when the Association receives advance payments from members and customers before revenue is recognized.

Balances in these accounts as of the beginning and end of the years ended August 31, 2024 and 2023 are as follows:

	August 31, 2024		Aug	ust 31, 2023	August 31, 2022

NOTE 9. AFFILIATE ORGANIZATIONS

The Association and its affiliated Regions (separate legal entities) entered into an Affiliation Agreement in September 2006 to define their respective obligations to each other. The Association provides for a Member Allotment to cover certain non-administrative expenditures as provided in the Agreement. The Regions are required to return any unused allotment to the Association. For the years ended August 31, 2024 and 2023, the total Member Allotment was $103,881 and $149,826, respectively.

NOTE 10. RETIREMENT PLAN

The Association has a defined contribution profit sharing plan that covers substantially all full-time employees who meet certain age and service requirements. Contributions to the plan for the years ended August 31, 2024 and 2023 were $24,982 and $22,483, respectively.

NOTE 11. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Operating Lease Commitments - The Association has a lease agreement for the rental of office and storage space that expires December 31, 2025. The Association was entitled to abatement of rent for the first 12 calendar months of the lease. The Association is also responsible for its pro-rata share of property taxes and operating expenses of the property.

The Association recognized a right-of-use asset and a related lease liability equal to the net present value of the expected future minimum base rent payments, discounted at 3.54%. The discount rate is based on the risk-free discount at September 1, 2022.

The amount of the right-of-use asset and the lease liability recognized as of the lease commencement date was approximately $218,867 and $265,512, respectively, consisting of the new present value of the future base monthly rent payments.

Rent expense for the years ended August 31, 2024 and 2023 totaled $70,637 and $178,940, respectively.

As of August 31, 2024, the minimum remaining payments are due as follows:

August 31,
2025	$ 86,4	50
2026	29,0	50
Undiscounted future cash flows	115,5	00
Less: discount to present value

Total lease liability	$ 112,6	42

NOTE 12. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Subsequent events have been evaluated through July 9, 2025, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued. This review and evaluation revealed no material event or transaction which would require an adjustment to or disclosure in the accompanying financial statements.
